The Jazz Loft's 2024 'Young at Heart' Series Debuts with a Valentine's Day Salute to the Ladies

Stony Brook, NY-The Jazz Loft, 275 Christian Avenue in Stony Brook, will be presenting the first 2024 Young at Heart daytime concert series on Wednesday, February 7, when the Loft salutes Valentine's Day with "Here's to the Ladies," with songs written for women, about women, to women, by women.

The Young at Heart series is a monthly themed series that takes place in the afternoon, making it easier for seniors to attend a concert during the day. The Young at Heart series also serves as a wonderful opportunity for those with memory loss to remember and enjoy familiar tunes.

The band will feature Jazz Loft founder Thomas Manuel and the Young at Heart Trio, with Manuel on cornet; Steve Salerno on guitar; and Keenan Zach on bass. All concerts are from 1-2 p.m. for the discounted price of just $10. Tickets can be purchased here: <https://www.thejazzloft.org/tickets>

"I often hear from seniors that it may be difficult for them to travel out at night and so I created the 'Young at Heart Series' which takes place in the afternoon," said Jazz Loft founder Thomas Manuel. "The one-hour programs are designed to be interactive and embrace story telling. Each theme is a trip down memory lane and a great way for folks to reminisce about different artists and time periods. The Young at Heart series also strives to help seniors or anyone with memory loss with the help of music."

The Jazz Loft is located just 90 minutes from New York City and is the only music venue on Long Island that features exclusively Jazz music. For more information about The Jazz Loft, visit our website.

The Jazz Loft is housed in a historic building, which is registered on the Brookhaven Town Registry of Historic Buildings. Opened in 2016, The Jazz Loft underwent a complete renovation that prioritized handicap accessibility. Read below to learn how we've ensured that everyone is able to take part in the preservation, education, and performance of Jazz at The Jazz Loft.
